

THE BIG TUC YOUTH DEBATE

JOBS, HOMES AND A VOICE

A TUC YOUNG WORKERS' MONTH EVENT, SUPPORTED BY THE NUS

SATURDAY 15 NOVEMBER 2014
11:00-17:00 CONGRESS HOUSE
LONDON WC1B 3LS

FOLLOW US ON

FACEBOOK TUC Young Workers
TWITTER @TUCYoungWorkers

nus TUC
national union of students

THE BIG TUC YOUTH DEBATE

JOBS, HOMES AND A VOICE

A TUC YOUNG WORKERS' MONTH EVENT, SUPPORTED BY THE NUS

SATURDAY 15 NOVEMBER 2014
11:00-17:00 CONGRESS HOUSE
LONDON WC1B 3LS

FOLLOW US ON

FACEBOOK TUC Young Workers
TWITTER @TUCYoungWorkers

nus TUC
national union of students

WE BELIEVE YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE A RIGHT TO EXPECT

- 1 A DECENT JOB
- 2 AFFORDABLE HOUSING
- 3 A VOICE IN THE WORKPLACE AND SOCIETY

The TUC believes that halfway through the second decade of the 21st Century a decent job, access to quality housing and a voice and representation at work, and beyond, are things that young people are entitled to expect rather than just hope for.

Current government policies on jobs and housing are failing young people. We are concerned about the crisis of representation of young people both at work and in the wider political debate. Turnout at the 2010 general election amongst 18- to 24-year-olds was just 43 per cent and less than 1 in 10 of workers aged 16–24 are members of a union.

At the BIG TUC YOUTH DEBATE on 15 November the TUC, supported by NUS, will be discussing progressive and radical solutions to these issues. We'll be bringing together young people, experts and campaigners (and some who are all three!) to discuss JOBS, HOMES and VOICE.

SPEAKERS INCLUDE

Anthony Curley, Unite, Vice Chair of TUC Young Workers' Forum; Fern McCaffrey, GMB, Chair of TUC Young Workers' Forum; Toni Pearce, NUS National President; Kay Carberry, TUC Assistant General Secretary; Richard Exell, TUC; Zoe Williams, The Guardian; Colum McGuire, NUS Vice President, Welfare; Michelle Stanistreet, NUJ General Secretary; Tom Copley, Labour Party London Assembly Housing Spokesperson; Alex Hilton, Generation Rent; Piers Telemaque, NUS Vice President, Society and Citizenship; Michael Sani, Chief Executive, Bite the Ballot; Daisy Bata, Young BECTU Rep.

To attend please register at
TUCYOUTHDEBATE.EVENTBRITE.COM

WE BELIEVE YOUNG PEOPLE HAVE A RIGHT TO EXPECT

- 1 A DECENT JOB
- 2 AFFORDABLE HOUSING
- 3 A VOICE IN THE WORKPLACE AND SOCIETY

The TUC believes that halfway through the second decade of the 21st Century a decent job, access to quality housing and a voice and representation at work, and beyond, are things that young people are entitled to expect rather than just hope for.

Current government policies on jobs and housing are failing young people. We are concerned about the crisis of representation of young people both at work and in the wider political debate. Turnout at the 2010 general election amongst 18- to 24-year-olds was just 43 per cent and less than 1 in 10 of workers aged 16–24 are members of a union.

At the BIG TUC YOUTH DEBATE on 15 November the TUC, supported by NUS, will be discussing progressive and radical solutions to these issues. We'll be bringing together young people, experts and campaigners (and some who are all three!) to discuss JOBS, HOMES and VOICE.

SPEAKERS INCLUDE

Anthony Curley, Unite, Vice Chair of TUC Young Workers' Forum; Fern McCaffrey, GMB, Chair of TUC Young Workers' Forum; Toni Pearce, NUS National President; Kay Carberry, TUC Assistant General Secretary; Richard Exell, TUC; Zoe Williams, The Guardian; Colum McGuire, NUS Vice President, Welfare; Michelle Stanistreet, NUJ General Secretary; Tom Copley, Labour Party London Assembly Housing Spokesperson; Alex Hilton, Generation Rent; Piers Telemaque, NUS Vice President, Society and Citizenship; Michael Sani, Chief Executive, Bite the Ballot; Daisy Bata, Young BECTU Rep.

To attend please register at
TUCYOUTHDEBATE.EVENTBRITE.COM