The Morning Star has launched a daily email news alert that includes links to top labour movement and political stories on the Morning Star website.

You can also opt in to receive updates about how we can work together to spread the news about campaigns and issues that matter to working people and trade unions.

The Morning Star is the voice of the labour movement, trade unions and all who want a better world.

We fight for equality, against all forms of discrimination and the politics of hate.

We are owned by the people, for the people and are free from the control of billionaire oligarchs and faceless corporations. By supporting us you also protect media pluralism.
